

Contributors

Milena Adamkova	University of Purkyně, Ústí, Czech Republic	10 Eating disorders and physical activity: a complex relationship
Jannis Alexandridis	Roseneck Clinic, Germany	12 Obesity and exercise in psychiatric patients
Marika Berchicci	University of Chieti, Italy	13 The role of physical activity in the treatment of attention deficit hyperactivity disorder
Maurizio Bertollo	University of Chieti, Italy	13 The role of physical activity in the treatment of attention deficit hyperactivity disorder
Simone Bolognesi	University of Siena, Italy	3 Mental health and physical activity: psychological and physiological mechanisms
Maud Bonanséa	Aix-Marseille University, France	11 Eating disorders in athletes
Katia E. L Borges	University of Minas Gerais, Brazil	8 Life in movement: a physical activity program involving schizophrenic participants in community settings
Attilio Carraro	University of Padua, Italy	1 Introduction: why physical activity and mental health? 6 The role of exercise in alcohol dependence recovery 15 Physical activity for people with intellectual disability 17 Assessment and evaluation instruments of physical activity to use in people with mental health problems
Amber De Herdt	University of Leuven, Belgium	18 Sport activities in leisure time for people with psychiatric disorders
Marc De Hert	University Psychiatric Center, University of Leuven, Belgium	7 Physical activity in the treatment of people with schizophrenia
Seppe Deckx	University Psychiatric Center, University of Leuven, Belgium	16 Physical activity and elderly with psychiatric disorders
Andrea Fagiolini	University of Siena, Italy	3 Mental health and physical activity: psychological and physiological mechanisms
Angela Favaro	University of Padua, Italy	2 Epidemiology and diagnostic criteria
Ilaria Ferri	University of Padua, Italy	15 Physical activity for people with intellectual disability 18 Sport activities in leisure time for people with psychiatric disorders
Luciano Antonio Fiorellini Bernardis	Casa di Cura "Parco dei Tigli", Italy	4 Psychopharmacology and physical activity
Markus Gerber	University of Basel, Switzerland	5 The role of exercise in the generation and regulation of stress

Erica Gobbi	University of Padua, Italy	15	Physical activity for people with intellectual disability
Arianna Goracci	University of Siena, Italy	3	Mental health and physical activity: psychological and physiological mechanisms
Jan Knapen	University Psychiatric Center, University of Leuven, Belgium	7	Physical activity in the treatment of people with schizophrenia
		9	Exercise for depression and anxiety: an evidence based approach and recommendations for clinical practice
Christophe Maïano	Université du Québec en Outaouais	14	Sport and adolescents with severe conduct disorders
Johana Monthuy-Blanc	University of Québec at Trois-Rivières Québec, Canada	10	Eating disorders and physical activity: a complex relationship
		11	Eating disorders in athletes
Felipe A. S. Moura-Lima	University of Minas Gerais, Brazil	8	Life in movement: a physical activity program involving schizophrenic participants in community settings
Michel Probst	Department of Rehabilitation Sciences, University of Leuven & University Psychiatric Center, University of Leuven, Belgium	1	Introduction: why physical activity and mental health?
		10	Eating disorders and physical activity: a complex relationship
		17	Assessment and evaluation instruments of physical activity to use in people with mental health problems
Uwe Pühse	University of Basel, Switzerland	5	The role of exercise in the generation and regulation of stress
Ruud van Winkel	University Psychiatric Center, University of Leuven, Belgium	7	Physical activity in the treatment of people with schizophrenia
Davy Vancampfort	University Psychiatric Center, University of Leuven, Belgium	7	Physical activity in the treatment of people with schizophrenia
		9	Exercise for depression and anxiety: an evidence based approach and recommendations for clinical practice